

RBCS
pre-primary

As little as these children may seem, they are the future of RBCS. To them it may all seem like a game, but they are actually in the learning process of becoming leaders for our school in the not too distant future. If you are just looking for a random smile to light up your day you can visit these littlies and you're guaranteed to feel on top of the world when you leave there.

Designed by Klara Moffett